ABOUT ME

I'm Herlyta Qotrun Nada, an Informatics Management graduate with experience across technology, creative media, data, and learning enablement.

My professional experience has taken me across web development, digital content, data processing, learning programs, and creative project management. Working across these areas has shaped my ability to adapt to different environments, understand diverse challenges, and approach projects from both technical and practical perspectives.

I'm committed to continuous learning and delivering thoughtful, effective solutions through every project I take on.
